Jaipur: Rajasthan Housing Board (RHB) Commissioner Pawan Arora has said that Indira Mahila Shakti Kendra will be set up by the Department of Women and Child Development and Rajasthan Housing Board for the solution and counselling of women in the Technology Park located in the prestigious Mansarovar Yojana of the Board. On Thursday a presentation in this regard was held at Board's Headquarters wherein KK Pathak, Secretary, Women and Child Development department, gave a presentation. Commissioner Arora informed that the Board has given its in-principal approval on the same and in the next meeting of the board, permission on the same will be taken for the project. A MoU will be signed between the Rajasthan Housing Board and the Women and Child Development Department after that. The cost of this project will be around 3 crores. Arora informed that various counselling and solution centers related to address women's problems will be established here. "This center is currently running in the Women's Commission which will be transferred here. The center will be unique in its kind, in which day-care centers and crèches for children and counselling and solution centers will be made to solve problems of women. Along with making regular facilities for self-defense and entrepreneurship and skill training at this center, anganwadi workers will also be trained here," the Commissioner said. Furthermore, an art center will be made for women and children to conduct hobby classes for development of art and interest.

Minor Sports Zone for Women and Children, Heritage Haat and Food Zone will also be set up for promotion of handicrafts, apparel and food products of Mahila Sangh Support Group. Additionally, women coming from far flung areas will be able to rest as a guest house will be constructed with all necessary facilities. Other features like kids playing area, Nutri-Garden, walk and learn path way will also be developed here. RHB will also use the facilities created in park.
